

Online Teaching Fellows

Post Course Survey - Draft

Thank you for your participation in the Online Teaching Fellows. We're excited to offer this opportunity to other online faculty members later in the year, but as always, are looking to reflect, assess and improve the effectiveness of the course. We'd appreciate if you could take about 10-15 minutes to provide some feedback on your experience of the Online Teaching Fellows. This survey is anonymous so please be open and honest.

1. Reevaluating your experience teaching online following the experience of redeveloping and teaching a QM recognized course, do you believe that teaching an online course is -
  - more satisfying than teaching a residential course
  - equally satisfying as a residential course
  - less satisfying than teaching a residential course
2. Reevaluating your experience teaching online following the experience of redeveloping and teaching a QM recognized course, do you believe that the quality of student learning in an online course is -
  - higher than in residential course
  - equal to a residential course
  - lower than in a residential course
3. How did redeveloping your course change the way you teach? Which specific changes most impacted your teaching?
4. How did redeveloping your course change the way that your students learn? Which specific changes most impacted your students' learning?
5. Is there a change that you feel has negatively impacted your teaching, or your students' learning? Can you tell us more about this concern?
6. Having completed the redevelopment and review, what do you wish you had known prior to this process?
7. Having completed the redevelopment and review, would you recommend applying to the Online Teaching Fellows to a peer? Why or why not?
8. Is there anything else you would like us to know?